

Upcoming Preceptor Skills Webinars

*All webinars are recorded and will be accessible on our preceptor portal*

*Free CE credits are available for each live and recorded webinar*

The New England Nursing Preceptor Academy is offering a wellness series designed for nurse preceptors! Each module is a standalone topic and it is not required to attend every session, but it is recommended. Each module is designed to provide concepts to teach and practice wellness.

Self-Awareness and Self-Regulation

Amy Romain, LMSW, ACSW - TEND Health

Monday, October 16, 2023, from 3:30 - 4:30 PM ET

This Webinar presents the human stress response. Participants will learn to recognize their own responses to stress, both as learners and as practitioners.

Click here to register

Well-being Basics

Amy Romain, LMSW, ACSW - TEND Health

Monday, October 30, 2023, from 3:30 - 4:30 PM ET

This Webinar will present the basic principles of Well-Being, including the importance of self-care and connecting with others.

Click here to register

Attention and Mindfulness

Christine Runyan, PhD, ABPP - TEND Health

Monday, November 13, 2023, from 3:30 - 4:30 PM ET

This Webinar enables participants to train their minds to increase focus and concentration; decrease bias and cognitive error; and to manage moods. These techniques will support both internal well-being and clinical practice.

Click here to register

Self-Compassion

Jennifer Ayres, PhD, ABPP, HSP - TEND Health

Monday, November 27, 2023, from 3:30 - 4:30 PM ET

This Webinar presents the concept of self-compassion, and its connection to personal health and professional performance and satisfaction.

Click here to register

ALL Webinars are Recorded

Here is a list of recorded webinars

- The Educational Planning Process: GNOME
- Utilizing a Needs Assessment to Improve Teaching and Learning
- Strategies for Intentional Teaching
  - Evaluation and Feedback
  - Aligned Purpose and Values

Click here to access the recorded webinars

The New England Nursing Preceptor Academy is offering free webinars for nursing preceptors to advance various teaching skills.

Mentoring New Faculty

Friday, October 27, 2023, from 8:00 - 9:00 AM ET

Lisa Van Cott, PhD, MSN, BSN, RN, and Denise Hallemeyer, DNP, MSN, BSN - Cape Cod Community College

This Webinar will discuss the importance of mentoring new faculty, creating a collaborative and supportive environment that helps retain our faculty - new and old alike.

Click here to register

Introduction to Precepting

Thursday, November 2, 2023, from 4:00 - 5:00 PM ET

Shirley Sargent, PhD, RN - UConn

This Webinar will define the roles and responsibilities of an effective preceptor. It will introduce Benner's concept: Novice to Expert, and help participants apply it to their precepting activities.

Click here to register

Constructive Feedback

Thursday, November 9, 2023, from 4:00 - 5:00 PM ET

Janet Ierardi, PhD, RNC, CNE, CNE-CL - Merrimack College
This Webinar will discuss the importance of performance feedback as well as the barriers to providing and receiving it. Specific strategies for framing effective performance feedback will be introduced.

Click here to register

Intentional Teaching/Precepting Challenges

Thursday, December 7, 2023, from 4:00 - 5:00 PM ET

Danielle Hebert, DNP, MBA, MSN, ANP-BC - UMass

This Webinar will identify the barriers to effective precepting and introduce tools to help you overcome those barriers. Approaches to developing precepting plans in the clinical environment will be discussed, as well as how applying the tools and plans can help address difficult student-preceptor interactions.

Click here to register

The Science of Learning

Thursday, December 14, 2023, from 4:00 - 5:00 PM ET

Thomas J. Van Hoof, MD, EdD, FACMQ - UConn

This Webinar will describe the biological process by which learning happens. Two critical strategies for supporting learning will be discussed.

Click here to register